

Elihu

Job 32—37

Elihu's Character

Elihu's Character

He has the most prominence over all of Job's friends

Elihu's Character

He has the most prominence over all of Job's friends

+ More words

Elihu's Character

He has the most prominence over all of Job's friends

- + More words
- + A genealogy (32:2)

Elihu's Character

He has the most prominence over all of Job's friends

- + More words

- + A genealogy (32:2)

He is angry (32:1-5 and 32:18-20)

Elihu's Character

He has the most prominence over all of Job's friends

- + More words

- + A genealogy (32:2)

He is angry (32:1-5 and 32:18-20)

He is full of himself (33:1-6)

Elihu's Character

He has the most prominence over all of Job's friends

- + More words

- + A genealogy (32:2)

He is angry (32:1-5 and 32:18-20)

He is full of himself (33:1-6)

He claims to be speaking for God (33:4 and 32:8)

Elihu's Character

He has the most prominence over all of Job's friends

- + More words

- + A genealogy (32:2)

He is angry (32:1-5 and 32:18-20)

He is full of himself (33:1-6)

He claims to be speaking for God (33:4 and 32:8)

He knows he's smarter than his friends (32:9)

“Is God out there?”

“Is God out there?”

Yes His is! And He speaks!

“Is God out there?”

Yes His is! And He speaks!

God speaks through our conscience (33:15-18)

“Is God out there?”

Yes His is! And He speaks!

God speaks through our conscience (33:15-18)

God speaks through pain and suffering (33:19)

“Is God out there?”

Yes His is! And He speaks!

God speaks through our conscience (33:15-18)

God speaks through pain and suffering (33:19)

God speaks through messengers (33:23-28)

“Is God fair?”

“Is God fair?”

Job said, “I am righteous, but God has taken away my justice!” (34:5)

“Is God fair?”

Job said, “I am righteous, but God has taken away my justice!” (34:5)

God is in complete control of every circumstance (34:10, 12)

“What have I done to deserve this?”

“What have I done to deserve this?”

It's actually the wrong question, because that's not the character of God!

“What have I done to deserve this?”

It's actually the wrong question, because that's not the character of God!

Questions could be asked in anger, pity or self-righteousness

“What have I done to deserve this?”

It's actually the wrong question, because that's not the character of God!

Questions could be asked in anger, pity or self-righteousness

Instead, look to God

“What have I done to deserve this?”

It's actually the wrong question, because that's not the character of God!

Questions could be asked in anger, pity or self-righteousness

Instead, look to God

Job 35:5-8 (heavenly perspectives)

“What have I done to deserve this?”

It's actually the wrong question, because that's not the character of God!

Questions could be asked in anger, pity or self-righteousness

Instead, look to God

Job 35:5-8 (heavenly perspectives)

Job 35:9-14 (humble hearts)

“Does God really love me?”

“Does God really love me?”

The answer to that question is simply: Look Around You

“Does God really love me?”

The answer to that question is simply: Look Around You

Look at People (Job 36:5-25)

“Does God really love me?”

The answer to that question is simply: Look Around You

Look at People (Job 36:5-25)

Look at Creation (Job 36:26—37:12)

“Does God really love me?”

The answer to that question is simply: Look Around You

Look at People (Job 36:5-25)

Look at Creation (Job 36:26—37:12)

Look at the Glorious works of God (Job 37:14-23)

